Rekindling the Spirit, Nourishing the Soul
with Fr. Teodilo (Ted) Gonzales, SJ PhD

Given the challenges and adversities of life, we invite you to PAUSE and find our sanctuary, to enter into the memories of the Galilee experience, to take responsibility, despite our vulnerabilities and the natural temptations we may be swept into, to rediscover our vision and engage in the mission we are called to, held in a delicate balance of boundaries, bonding, and the boundless compassion of our God.

EPHPHATHA - Be Opened

EPHPHATHA - Be Opened

During Benediction, the priest sings, "You have given them Bread from Heaven," to which we reply, "Having within It all sweetness." This same sweetness is spoken of in the Prayer of St. Bonaventure, a love letter, if you will, from a saint who learned to live Eucharistically, to his utmost Treasure.

Fr. Wilfrid Stinissen asks, "Is there a moment in Jesus' life when in a completely special way he shows us who he is and what he wants, a moment when he expresses his inmost being, when he sums up his whole life and at the same time explains the meaning of his life? Yes, that moment comes when he says: "This is my body given up for you.

This is my blood poured out for you..." When we wonder how we shall act, the answer is: "Look at the Eucharist!" There is the Christian life in its fullness...Jesus has instituted the Eucharist so that we will have the sacrifice in our midst as a constant source of inspiration and a clear reference point."

PONDER IN GOD'S PRESENCE:

"Dare to do as much as you can, because Jesus is greater than any praise, nor can you praise Him enough." (Lauda Sion)
Jesus' love is a reckless love; He died for all. We are all capable of recklessness. Are we reckless in our love for Him Who loved us first? Do we abandon our own wills and elevate His will? Or are we recklessly elevating ourselves, grasping for the praise of mere man?

Adoration at St. Patrick's

"One who I call to a life of reparation must not fall into lukewarmness and the lack of generosity. These things are the very opposite of what a call to reparation signifies. I have called you and set you apart to live day after day in My presence and to adore my Eucharistic Face."

Suspended until September

Kid's Corner

The terms "taking the loaves," "looked up to heaven," "blessed and broke" and "gave them to the disciples" have strong Eucharistic overtones. This is not unusual for Luke in all meal accounts in his Gospel. Luke refers here both to the Eucharistic celebration of the Christian community as well as to the heavenly banquet at the end of time, especially when he mentions "all ate and were filled," and there was lots leftover. Our daily bread, the Eucharistic meal, promise fulfillment at the end of time.
